
Youth Inclusion in Morocco through formal employment and entrepreneurship

Jihane Elharizi*^{†1}, Youssef Ouazzouz*^{‡1}, and Manal El Abboubi*^{§2}

¹PhD Researcher, University Mohamed 5, FSJES Agdal (Rabat) – Morocco

²Professor, University Mohamed 5, FSJES Agdal (Rabat) Research Associate, Economia Hem Research Center – Morocco

Abstract

This study, which took place from the beginning of September 2022 until the end of December 2022, aimed to understand the impact study of public policies in Morocco in terms of youth inclusion. During our study, many observations were made, the most striking being the variables conditioning access to the centers. Although initiatives are being taken to facilitate this access as best as possible, some questions remain unanswered. We know that the constraints can be financial, geographical and sometimes cultural, but we don't yet know how they are perceived between men and women. What we are sure of is certainly how gender norms and security issues create additional challenges for young women in the region. More researches are needed to understand how we can lower the effect of those constraints to guarantee equal access for youth regardless of their gender.

*Speaker

[†]Corresponding author: Jihane.floriane@gmail.com

[‡]Corresponding author: youssef.ouazzouz@um5s.net.ma

[§]Corresponding author: manal.elabboubi@gmail.com